MOULDING / MOLDING

This business, founded in 2001, is located in northern New Brunswick in a small community to grow and prosper, and above all to lower operating costs. This molding plant produces different types of quality moldings. It has established its distribution market across Canada and has been booming in the field for 4 years. The company has managed to develop an interesting relationship with its suppliers by offering a quality product at a good price. The sector is growing and promising and has a future.

This company, in operation throughout the year, is open Monday to Friday from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. It mainly offers its services to a commercial clientele selling renovation and construction products in the residential, industrial and commercial fields.

Future owners may use the website to broaden their business and residential clientele to offer their products and services. The manufacturing company may easily move in any area. The residential market is growing in this area and the development potential is attractive.
